Social Media Manager, Coca-Cola

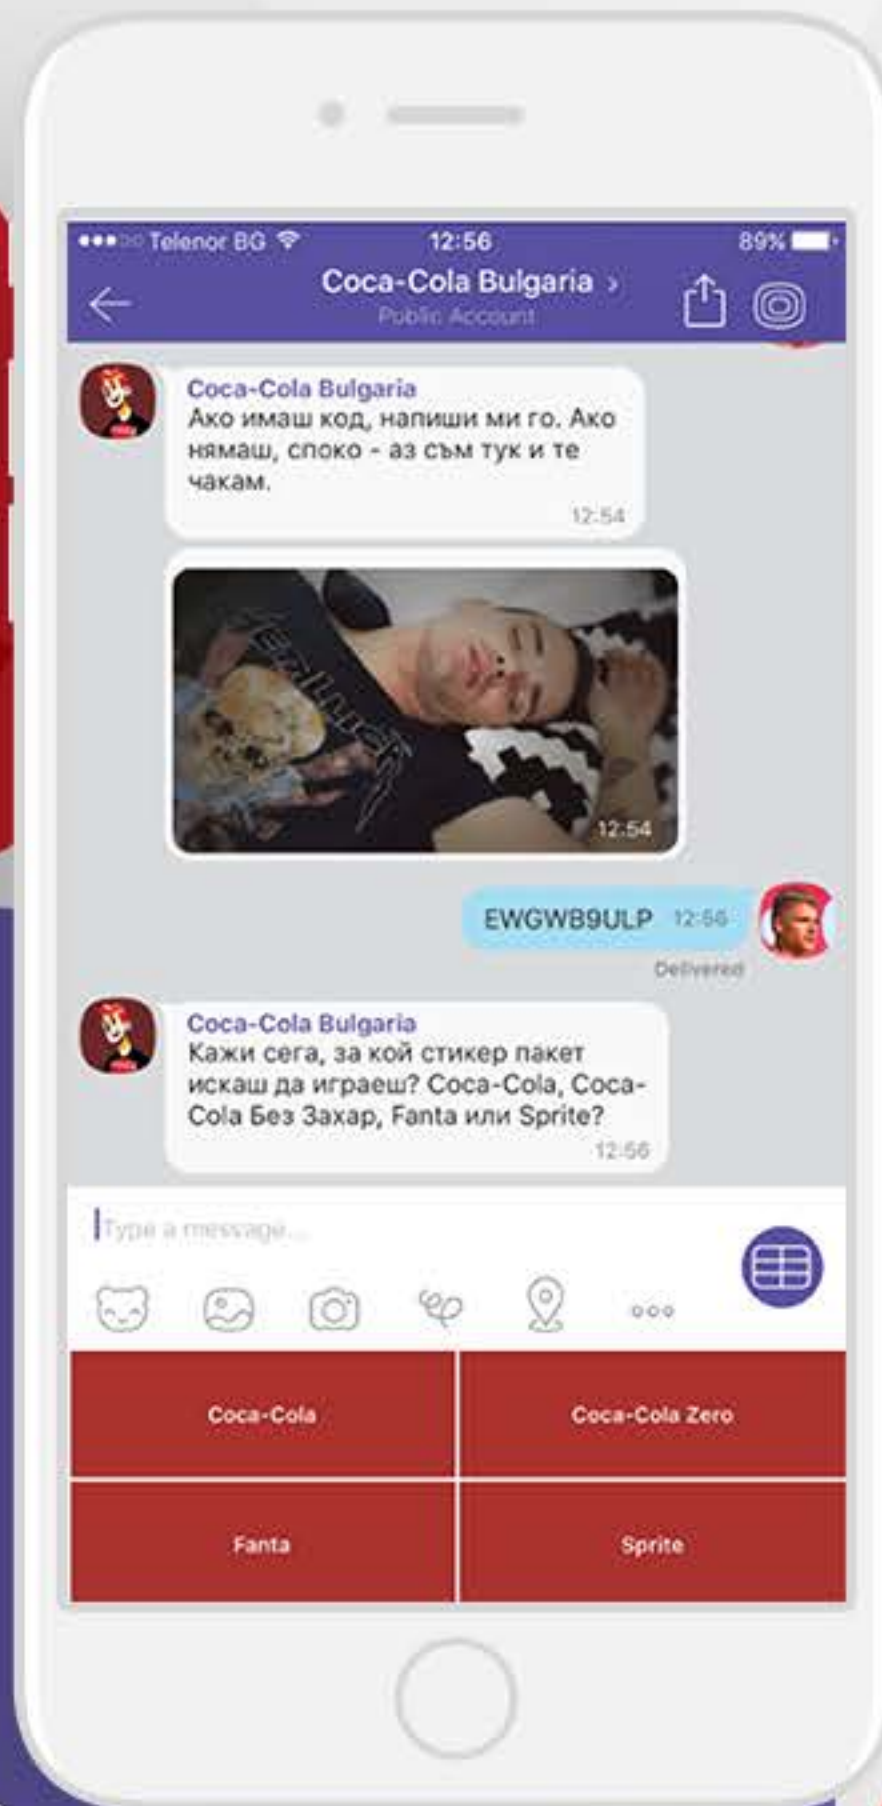

Coca-Cola is the world's largest beverage company, refreshing consumers and bringing people together with over 500 brands and nearly 3,900 beverage choices.

Pairing the brand with Viber's connected and engaged Bulgarian audience was pivotal to its goals—boosting its mobile footprint, interacting with current and new consumers while providing an integrated digital experience—in- and out-of-app.

Over a three-month period, Coca-Cola launched a Public Account, Sticker Packs with a promo code mechanism and a Chatbot experience on Viber. To maximize their reach and conversions, Coca-Cola amplified this with cross-promotion across their social channels, supporting an “under-the-cap” sweepstakes. Coca-Cola successfully engineered a comprehensive and engaging promotion strategy.

SOLUTIONS

The Viber-exclusive under-the-cap program was announced to Viber users via the Coca-Cola Sticker Pack, directing them to the Coca-Cola Public Account with the option to receive a unique redemption code.

Viber users received the redemption code via the Viber Chatbot. The Coca-Cola Sticker Pack offered an interactive way for existing Chatbot followers to share the under-the-cap program and grow the campaign significantly. This not only engaged users with the bot and sweepstakes, but also extended virality and reach of their program outside of the app.

Coca-Cola amplified the campaign through cross-promotion on their social channels, focusing on video content that highlighted the ease of use and fun of the sweepstakes.

Within a short time-span, Coca-Cola used their Public Account to distribute redemption codes—creating hype and driving conversions.

A row of several Coca-Cola cans is lined up on a sandy beach. The cans are condensation-covered and feature the classic Coca-Cola script logo. In the background, a bright sun flare creates a lens flare effect, illuminating the scene. The entire image has a purple color overlay. There are also several semi-transparent purple circles of varying sizes scattered across the background.
